Approx. 15 years ago I sold this beautiful Alvis Tourer to one of my Belgian customers. I am happy to notice that after years of classic car pleasure this Tourer is again entrusted to me in search of a new owner. The initial super quality of this very elegant Alvis has aged very well over all these years. Additionally this Speed 20 has had the benefit of a complete engine rebuild by our specialised workshop some years ago and did prove for total reliability and effortless power from the fresh 2,7 liter 6 cylinder 90 HP unit enabling good performances in all nowadays 'modern' road-circumstances. Having driven all sorts of prewar classics during my 20 year career the Speed 20 Tourer remains my favourite. I am sure to convince you just in a few strong points: - Extremely elegant and very practical Cross & Ellis tourer design. - Light, mostly aluminium body construction. - Super-easy manipulation thanks to for its time very modern technical engineering featuring independant front suspension and full synchromesh gearbox. - Very reasonable market value.
