This charming little race car has travelled all over the world and wishes to do some more km's this thime, why not, with you at her steering wheel. Initially sold to an Australian enthusiast, the car returned to England in the 70-ies. There it was raced at Prescott hill Climb, Silverstone and several other VSCC-events by a lady with race ambitions. Now for approx. 10 years in Belgium, it is again on the market due to the owners' death. This very well taken care of charming, little French race car just had a complete engine rebuild in my workshop and is now ready for more vintage racing fun as it has provided in the past to her previous owners. Your turn now ?
