Aston Martin DB5 Coupé

1964

Gallery

Chassis: DB5/1496/R This DB5 project could represent the ideal chance to obtain this sought after Aston Martin icon at a very attractive price. The sports car is actually in a partly restored (chassis and most of bodywork already restored - converted from RHD into LHD) but still dismantled condition. A quick check-up revealed that all mechanical components are there. For our classic car workshop, well reputed as Aston Martin specialists, this is absolutely no problem and could represent the perfect opportunity to execute the further restoration to the new owner's exact requirements. In a collaboration with the future owner we could choose the colors of body and interior leather, the tuning variants of the engine, suspension, etc... The presentation as a sports-racing car or in original standard trim, etc... Exactly as you like!
