Lancia Aurelia B20S 1958 LHD Anyone interested in the sporty cars of the 50-ies knows that the Lancia Aurelia B20 was an instant winner in those years. Still today me and many of my classic car friends are impressed by the engineering and road behaviour of that car. 'Purists' will opt for the early series Aurelias, but 'drivers' will prefer the later more powerful series. This particular VI-th series Aurelia benefits from the powerful 2,5 liter all aluminium V6 engine and the floorshift gearchange. According to the info obtained from the Registro Aurelia, engine and chassis numbers are matching. The same "Registro" learns us that chassis B20S 1797 was initially sold to the USA (that is why the Speedo is in Miles) and came back recently to her native Italy, where a well known Lancia collector, together with the help of Aurelia "guru" Clerici from Como, restored this B20S to her former glory. You are very wellcome to come and judge for yourself, but I can assure you this Lancia Aurelia just looks wonderful. Very neat, sweet & sexy! Try this Aurelia on the road and I promise you that in 1 - 2 - 3 you also will be an Aurelia aficionado! Till very soon?
