Riley IMP

My "love story" with Riley Imps goes on and on. I recently acquired this well known Imp. This elegant sports car is the 5th Imp in row in approx. 2 years. This alone is rather unusual because only 140 Imp models were produced ever. The British female race fanatic, Angela Pilkington, was one of the well known previous owners until my respected Brussels classic car collector and friend Roland D'leteren added this cute Imp to his collection. We were honoured when he asked my classic car workshop to carry out a complete mechanical restoration on this rare Riley. Quality was the main target, luckily with no budget restrictions at all. Everybody agreed, we should try and conserve the beautiful patina on the car, which we are used to preserve on interesting cars when the structural solidity allows us to. The result is an extremely charming Imp which runs and behaves like new. I could tempt my customer into another interesting purchase and so this cute and mechanically perfectly restored Imp is on the market now. Could you be tempted at 85.000 euro ? (much cheaper than recently has been invested in this Imp)
